

As appeared in January 4, 2013
issue of the Port Washington News.

Dejana Foundation Donates Gift Cards for Outreach and Seniors.

By Debbie Greco Cohen

Toys, gifts and general donations are kind gestures at any time of the year, but they are particularly appreciated during the holiday season when money is tighter than usual. A bit of extra money can help make the season a bit brighter.

To help ease the burden during the holiday season and in the spirit of giving, the Peter and Geri Dejana Family Foundation has made generous donations to the Port Washington Senior Citizens Center outreach centers at Our Lady of Fatima Parish and St. Peter's of Alcantara Church. These donations are for gift cards to distribute to the neediest at the outreach facilities and for many of the members of the Senior Center.

“The Dejana Foundation makes generous donations throughout the year, but we wanted our holiday contribution to be more personal and go directly to the members,” said Jim Avena, Grant Administrator for the Dejana Family Foundation. “It is very fulfilling to know that our donations are helping to make so many people’s holidays that much nicer.”

The Senior Citizens Center and both Fatima and St. Peter's Outreach facilities are grateful for these generous and wonderful donations. They are having a great time acting like “Santa” when they hand the gift cards out to their members.

For more information about the Peter and Jeri Dejana Family Foundation, call Grant Distributor Jim Avena at 516-637-4065.